It's a lot easier to say green than to be green*

It's really akin to adopting a philosophy of life directed at reducing your carbon footprint — one increment at a time. We've been working on it for twenty-five years, it's not easy and it can be expensive. But it has its rewards and now finally with our new packaging we've reduced paper usage by 70% and have a real honest to goodness DEGRADABLE poly bag. Still it's not BIODEGRADABLE, but they're working on it. Like we said "one increment at a time".

 A smaller footprint and a greener planet.*
