Once a cleaner always a cleaner . . .

Seems that way with my dad

Dad retired almost 5 years ago, but he's still cleaning - albeit now it's an alley. I think what he's really trying to do is convert his alley into a paseo because they said he shouldn't live there. Anyway the Looking Good Santa Barbara organization gave him an award for the work he has done. They encourage people to recycle and clean up graffiti and litter and then recognize individuals, businesses, students and even police officers who go the extra mile. So thanks Looking Good Santa Barbara for giving credit where credit is due. But I'm still not really sure just when an alley becomes a paseo. But if you want you can check it out yourself at 13 W. Haley Street - next to the Holiday Inn Express.

(You decide whether it's an alley or a paseo)
