What's wrong with this?

The dry cleaner sees a paseo . . . . .
. . . . . the commissioner sees an alley

We wanted to talk about that this month, but were told it was political. So instead we will talk about one of our favorite restaurants – Zen Yai at 425 State Street. The Thai food there is wonderful, but the problem is limited seating - so if you don't get there early you often have to wait for a table for dinner. But the good news is they are now opening for lunch Tuesday through Friday (11:30 AM to 2:15 PM). And no one knows about it yet so chances are good you can get a table for lunch. Mention Ablitt's and receive a complimentary ice tea

(An if you do go around to their back door you will see an alley being transformed into a paseo — but we can't talk about that now.)

Expires 9/30/07
