We are living in interesting times . . . . .
. . . . not to mention a financial meltdown . . . .
. . . . and an historic presidential election . . . . .

Whoever wins the prize (and we certainly wouldn't wish it on anyone) the candidate and party will indeed be making history. So maybe this is an excellent reason for all of us to really study the issues and be better prepared to make an informed decision. And hopefully vote for something . . . . . and not against.

Of course when you get your ballot and you still haven't made up your mind we suggest you simply vote for . . . .
